Romans 12:18

If it is possible, as far as it depends on you, live at peace with everyone.

Dear School Family

I trust this final term of the year has opened well for you all. These first weeks have certainly already been packed with activity and enjoyment. We hope you are able to join some of the wider school activities planned for this term and enjoy the connection and fellowship that comes with such events.

We have some new events hitting the calendar this term; starting with a Movie Night Series for our Year 0-6s. It has been great to see students venturing out on this social occasion and we look forward to completing this series with Year 3-4 on Friday 20 October and Year 0-2 on Friday 3 November. Towards the end of the term, we are hosting a Christmas Window Walk-through. This is a collaborative and creative event which gives us a great opportunity to turn our attention to the real reason for the Christmas season as it rapidly approaches. We invite our families to bring a picnic dinner, join us on the field and enjoy what the students have prepared as night falls. What a treat we have in store!

Our Friends of PCS are organising another great Colour Run for 10 November. Sponsorship forms have been issued to students and we encourage students to reach out beyond our immediate school families and gather support from the wider community. Our 2023 Colour Run is raising funds to support the school's IT Plan, in particular upgrading resources for our Primary Digital Literacy curriculum. We can't wait for this colourful and joyful day and hope you can join us too!

We can also look forward to the events that have long been a part of the PCS tradition; Helpers' Morning Tea, Graduation and Prizegiving draw the year to a fitting close, and we look forward to being able to hold these celebrations with you.

As we advance into this full and vibrant term, we are mindful of the need to pray for our strife-filled world. We pray for peace. We pray for wisdom for decision-makers. We pray for God's comfort for the broken-hearted.

Blessings to you all.

Carolyn M Cornu

Principal

SAD GOODBYES WITH HAPPY WISHES

At the end of Term 3, we said goodbye to some very special members of the PCS family. Though we are very sad to see them go and wave them off, we are very happy with them about the next chapter of their lives. Our best and happiest wishes accompany them for their future endeavours, and we trust that God will remain their guiding pilot light throughout their lives wherever it may take them.

STUDENT SUCCESSES CONTINUE

From the pen of Jeremy Musonye

It's been said that if mankind were meant to fly, we would have been born with wings. Maybe so. But some of us were born to do nothing else.

I have wanderlust, always moving. Flying and planes let me move in three dimensions. Every time I set my eyes on an airplane; every time I set foot on an airplane; every time the pilot pre flights in a commercial plane, I get a feeling, a feeling of immense awe and exhilaration. It's indescribable. This feeling will never leave me; not now, not tomorrow, not the day after, not 100 years from now. It's a feeling that no man that doesn't fly will ever experience.

For me flying and aviation is freedom, its excitement, its breathtaking. I strongly believe that if you find something that gives you a reason to wake up in the morning, a reason to work hard, a reason to sacrifice and compromise, a reason to dedicate your time, blood, sweat and tears, like what aviation means to me, then you owe it to yourself to chase it, to run after it with everything you've got, to not look back. No matter how tiring and exhausting the run is, you don't stop till you get it. You do it like your life depends on it because it does!

I have been building and programming drones and model planes my entire life and I've only just turned 18. I genuinely believe that if the Wright brothers hadn't made the first ever functioning aircraft in 1903, I would've. My passion for aerodynamics, aircraft, and aviation in general will never end till the day I die. This is my pursuit of happiness.

I have gone to a few airshows throughout my life, and all these just made my passion for aviation grow stronger. During the 2022 annual Admore airport warbirds airshow, The NZDF had a stand showcasing some of their impressive aircraft and military vehicles. I was very intrigued and knew that I had to apply instantly. That opportunity just seemed too good to pass.

Unfortunately, at that moment my family hadn't gotten our residency visas yet, and after a lot of research I found out I wasn't eligible to apply. I was absolutely gutted. But unfortunately, that's just how the world works. Nevertheless, I kept my head high.

Fast forward a few months later we got the residency, on that same day I applied for the role of pilot and Aircraft systems technician through their website.

The whole process wasn't easy at all, I had to scan and send every single official document under my name. I had to get multiple vaccinations. I had to get a medical examination to prove that I was medically fit for service. I had to do multiple aptitude tests which essentially test your mental ability, in a variety of topics ranging from simple asthmatics to critical thinking and problem solving under a very strict and short time frame. I have had to complete and pass all and ongoing physical tests. It has been tough! And this is only just the beginning.

Upon successful completion of all these tests, I got an interview invitation for the two trades I had applied for. I attended the interview. I stayed true to myself and my morals while answering the interview questions. In addition to this, I had to hand in a personal biography. The results from my interview were submitted to a selection board and three weeks later I heard back from them.

I was in!!! Unfortunately, I didn't get in to my first chosen trade as a pilot due to very limited positions available. But I had gotten into my second choice which was the Aircraft's Systems Technician (aircraft engineer). I was immediately sent an offer of employment and an invitation to an Induction Day. I still have one more fitness test before the intake which is on 15 January 2024 in RNZAF base, Woodborne in Christchurch. I trust God that I will pass my final fitness test. Just like the school motto I also live by the motto of "striving for excellence through Christ." Huge thanks to the school, for all the support and belief in me. PCS has instilled in me a good work ethic and discipline with faith and Christ at the centre of it all. I will forever cherish what I have gotten from my teachers and apply it in the next chapters of my life.

Ron Jeremy Musonye.

THANK YOU!

We would like to take this opportunity to say a special word of thanks to everyone who helps, supports, encourages, advises and so many more things that are done behind the scenes. We would like to thank the Loef Family for their generosity and craftsmanship in the newly completed and refreshed Teachers' Workroom. Thank you also to Pieter Pum and Reuben Saathof for getting the Long Jump Pit in shape for our upcoming athletics. Daltons Landscape Supplies – Drury and Mitre 10 Pukekohe generously donated sand for the Long Jump pit for the athletics. Big thank you to Jaycob Walker for his work on spoutings around the school.
